Chapter 1: Relational Schema Design

1.1 Functional Dependencies and Candidate Keys

A Functional Dependency X -> Y specifies that attribute set X uniquely determines attribute set Y.

A Candidate Key is a minimal superkey with no redundant attributes.

Second Normal Form (2NF) requires eliminating partial dependencies on composite keys. If a primary key has only a single attribute, 2NF is automatically satisfied.